Semantic Web
for scientific and cultural organisations:
results of some early experiments
Workshop Italian/English

The workshop is organised within the MESMUSES project (http://cweb.inria.fr) funded by the European Commission inside the Fifth Framework Programme of Research and Technological Development (1998-2002) and aims at presenting the semantic web methodology applied to the scientific and cultural museology to the managers of scientific museums and to the people working in the Cultural Heritage field, in general. Moreover, the workshop is an occasion of discussion with other specialists involved in the this type of projects, in Europe and abroad, about the results and prospects of the semantic web methodology for scientific and cultural institutions.
